

This section needs to be rewritten!

decided he wasn't didn't he was the doctor ~~couldn't~~ think ~~of being~~ obliged to take the initiative that his title and position demanded of him as an honest man.]

He contented himself with suggesting that I ~~was~~^{be} removed from the horse as soon as possible, believing that ~~in~~^{with} this he had cleared himself of all responsibility.

Let me repeat it:

I shall repeat it, his duty ^{demanding} indicated a different line of action ^{imposed} ^{course of} behaviour. In a similar circumstances, indecision was not allowed.

It was a serious ^{error} fault, not simply morally, but in the eyes of the law. Frightened, if the secret had uncovered, he preferred to bury it forever!

Doctor T... cannot be Doctor Chesnut - his doctor told no one about what he discovered.